Contacts information for student financial assistance and general institutional issues for attending a study abroad program that is approved for credit by the home school;

Avant Gard The School does not currently have any agreements with any institutions overseas for training of students where credit received would be used to meet the graduation requirements of Avant Gard The School.

Information regarding the availability of FSA program funds for study abroad programs.

If you are currently receiving financial aid from Avant Gard The School, and the school has a program for study abroad you can use it for the study abroad program. Talk to your financial aid officer about what can and can't be applied to a program of study abroad.

The Higher Education Act (HEA) of 1992 mandated that a student can receive financial aid for study abroad if the student is enrolled in a program approved by the home institution. Moreover, the student would be eligible to receive "grants, loans, or work assistance without regard to whether the study abroad program is required as a part of the student's degree."
